What's The Real Reason for Such a Great Performance?

This past Friday we celebrated the beginning of a new school year at Van Bao. Many parents came and enjoyed watching their children perform. From looking at the way the children performed you would have thought they were born with a natural ability to stand on stage in front of people and perform. But, I found out the real reason for such a good performance.

On Tuesday, a week ago, I was able to follow Chrysalis Red at Van Bao to their Music class. On this day they were preparing for Friday's performance. Here I discovered their secret to a great performance. CR put a lot of hard work into preparing. On this day they practiced their song and body movements three times. Each child participated to the best of their ability and it was fun to see the little improvements each child made after each time they practiced their song - Cay But Chi Mau.

To answer the question, "What's the real reason for such a great performance?" is simple...lots of practice and hard work from the children and their teachers.

I enjoyed watching the children's performance and for those of you who were able to come, I'm sure you did, too.
